

Easy Collaborative Experiences

Creating a culture of collaboration in many organizations is a top priority. The evolving workforce demands engaging tools that are flexible, effective and easy to use. HB takes an experience and workflow-based approach that adapts to the way users work. The collaboration team at HB works with customers to create a secure video collaboration platform that scales to any place on any device.

Cloud

For customers who are looking for scalable, flexible and quickly deployed collaboration solutions, HB will work to develop a cloud strategy that optimizes costs and provides high quality, reliable and secure collaboration experiences. Our team works with you to determine whether a cloud option is the right solution for your organization.

Room Systems

We are byproducts of our environment. Great rooms foster great ideas and as a new generation of employees enter the work force, it is important to create engaging environments for them to work in. HB works with customers to develop everything from huddle spaces and large corporate boardrooms to unique collaboration areas that inspire creativity and innovation. Ease of use is the number one priority for rooms no matter how advanced the functionality.

Mobile

We have reached a time where mobility is an obvious necessity. No longer do users need to be convinced that mobility is important, but more importantly they need to know that mobile collaboration is easy and effective. HB's collaboration specialists work with customers to ensure their users have an effortless and engaging mobile experience.

Platform

To create a successful collaboration ecosystem throughout your organization, it's important to create a platform that is secure, scalable, easy to use and available in any place on any device. HB's Collaborative Solutions include video calls, chat, presence, file sharing, meeting scheduling and more. HB's collaboration team works with customers to define a strategy and roadmap that is built to evolve with your needs.

Infrastructure

HB has deep experience in deploying Hybrid and On-Premise infrastructure to support enterprise collaboration solutions. HB's analysis process is tailored to helping customers choose the best option while weighing the balance between cost, security, and previous technology investments.

To learn more about our Video Collaboration Solutions, contact us at 800.243.4414 or email info@hbcommunications.com